The Ultimate Edge

The Wall HMP Birmingham is a continuous edge, prominent and impenetrable unless hanging upside down from a catering van.

The Wall and outside edge views are easily accessible being a park, canal, footpath and two roads. The inner edge views are obviously not accessible. Despite my enthusiasm for the Grid Project, I am not willing to get incarcerated, plus I am the wrong sex. Any volunteers?

The urban area surrounding the Wall is diverse: run down housing, main roads, a canal with trees and wildlife and the big green open park. In places, it looks like the countryside.
