

BRADFORD STREET (AREA 3)

PAUL BARTLETT

This edge is created by a tall solid fence abutting Bradford Street and wasteland waiting to be built upon between the White Swan Pub and Rea Street. It reminds me of the Berlin Wall of yesteryear because of very different terrain on each side and - as if in a foreign country - graffiti I mostly do not understand. Ominously maybe, the only readily readable words are : "No love."

© Paul Bartlett

16th October 2023