

JUNCTION, EDGBASTON ROAD & WILLOWS ROAD (AREA 4)

This is the road traffic island by Cannon Hill Park, made famous by “funny Brummie artist” Robert Geoghegan’s inclusion of a dinosaur in his painting. I look across at it, then take my camera on a circular walk around its perimeter looking out at adjoining road junctions, pavements, pedestrian crossings and arrowed signage. The optical effects of the final photograph are an outcome of photographing from an upstairs bus window during torrential rain.
